Aberhart Urges Sirois Report Be Set Aside In View Of War Situation

Alberta of the Opinion This Was An Inopportune Time For Discussion Of "These Highly Controversial Matters"

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—In view of the war situation, the Rowell-Sirois commission report should be set aside for the present, Premier Aberhart of Alberta said Tuesday in addressing the Dominion-Provincial conference called to consider the report.

He said the meeting would not be in vain "if, having come together to discuss the Sirois report, we decide, in view of the present circumstances, to set it aside in order that we may give every effort towards winning the war."

Alberta was of the opinion this was an inopportune time for discussion of "these highly controversial matters." Because of the only interruption by the battle off Sicily between the escorting warships of a convoy enroute to Greece and a combined Italian-German air force. Although three British fighting vessels were damaged, the convoy of merchantmen reached Greece safely, indicating that the attacking planes were unable to follow through.

It is more than 600 miles from the scene of the engagement to Greece. If the enemy planes had been victorious in putting the warships out of commission they should have been able to overwhelm the unprotected merchant vessels, preventing their war materials from reaching Greece. That they did not.

The British air arm, which was working in association with the convoy, apparently drove back the German and Italian, after the latter had lost 12 planes with others damaged. It is impossible, therefore, to claim that German dive bombing support for the Italians threatens to turn the naval scale in the Mediterranean.

The area of combat was the Mediterranean narrowest part be-

FLIGHT RECORD OVER ATLANTIC BROKEN OFTEN

Breakfast-To-Tea Feats Are Not Rare States British Official

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Trans-Atlantic flights between breakfast and tea-time are being made repeatedly by pilots ferrying United States-made bombers to Britain, say authoritative aviation sources said today.

This statement was made to correct a previous declaration that a breakfast-flight by Capt. Pat Eves of British Airways had set a record for the crossing.

The source said the trans-Atlantic record had been "broken time and again," but he would not give the name of the pilot who held the new record nor Eves' exact time.

SCHOOL IN CANADA
Eves, 31, who flew air lines in India before the war, completed the terrific cold, but said that otherwise the feat was peaceful.

Another British Airways pilot, Capt. Allan Andrew, 32, has flown from London to Halifax in a quick time.

Some machines, it is said, were being used by Canadian and United States volunteer pilots, and others by British airline pilots, also volunteers.

A school for transatlantic ferry pilots has been opened in Canada, it is learned on good authority, where Canadian and U.S. pilots are being trained in handling the bombers they are to deliver to England, especially in taking off with a heavy load of fuel.

MAKING OTHERS
The pilots are understood to be mostly British. Several B-17s, Lockheed Vegas tankers, and Consolidated Flying Boats.

Air experts are talking of the possibility of larger bombers being loaded with the wings (wings of small nuclear fighters). This has been done for a much shorter distance by the Italians reinforcing their shaken air force in Africa.

Observers noted the Cambria, Imperial Flying Boat, in an expedition to the British Isles, had been the distance from Bolwood, Newfoundland to Fozzies, 18 in 10 hours and 23 minutes.

Yacht Carrying Windors Riding Out Stormy Seas
NASSAU, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor on an expedition tour of the Bahamas, reported by radio today that they were riding out stormy seas.

The yacht was forced to anchor off Whale Cay yesterday when a heavy ground swell made landing impossible.

The captain stressed, however, that the craft was in absolutely no danger.

These sources characterized the attack by German dive bombers on a British naval flotilla Jan. 10 as "the first gun of the offensive."

The Admiralty announced last night the assault by German and Italian planes damaged the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Illustrious and the 8,000-ton cruiser Southampton.

SUCCESS UNLIKELY
Military sources in London said that if the German air units based in Sicily were able to challenge British naval supremacy in the Mediterranean, Germany undoubtedly would begin sending troops across the Sicilian Channel, which lies between Sicily and Tunisia, to bolster Marshal Graziani's harried forces in Libya.

Questions as to probability of such an offensive, there was little

Speedy Passage Of President's Measure Requested At Hearing

U.S. Secretary Of State Warns Committee Germans Could Easily Cross Atlantic If Britain Defeated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau told the House Committee today that Britain will require $8,019,000,000 for purchases in this country from Jan. 1, 1941, to Jan. 1, 1942, and of that amount $1,161,000,000 would be in excess of British funds available for buying here.

By JOHN R. BEAL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(BUP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, declaring that "Germany could easily cross the Atlantic" if Britain falls, urged today speedy enactment of the administration's aid-to-Britain bill in order to defeat "aggression and tyrannical rule."

He told the house foreign relations committee that a German move against his homeland, particularly across the South Atlantic, would be an easy matter "unless we are prepared to do what Britain is doing now."

Hull was the first witness as the committee opened hearings on the proposed British aid measure yesterday before the personal ex-charge of the Senate, Arthur H. Wheeler, D., Mont., leader of the opposition.

He said the committee that he considered the pending measure "absolutely necessary for the defense of the United States." Hull repeated "I have been unwillingly driven to the consideration to which you refer."

He ended Germany's "effrontery and cynicism" in holding the proposed British aid measure yesterday before the Senate, Arthur H. Wheeler, D., Mont., leader of the opposition.

Asked at one point if he considered the pending measure "absolutely necessary for the defense of the United States," Hull replied "I have been unwillingly driven to the consideration to which you refer."

Abrupt End Comes When 3 Provinces Refuse Discussions

Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario Opposed To Considering Recommendations Contained In Report

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his cabinet colleagues left the Dominion-Provincial conference at 5:30 p.m. M.T., tonight to reach a meeting on the Federal government's attitude toward prolonging the meeting.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Finance Minister Bailey, speaking at the Dominion-Provincial Conference after the refusal of three provincial premiers to sit on committees to discuss the Rowell-Sirois Commission recommendations became known, said today the Dominion government might be forced to invade provincial sources of revenue.

"If Plan 1 (of the Commission report) is not adopted," he said, "I fear the Dominion government will be forced to take measures which will adversely affect provincial revenues."

He said he thought it necessary to say what steps would have to be taken by the Dominion if recommendations of the report were not adopted and enumerated the following steps:

- 1—Invade the succession duty field.
- 2—Increase the income tax rate.
- 3—Discontinue advances to the provinces to enable them to meet their maturities.
- 4—Ration gasoline, thus reducing revenues to the provinces through gasoline taxation.

The federal finance minister told provincial premiers adoption of the Rowell-Sirois report or some other plan is necessary if the war burden is to be distributed equitably or if the tax system is to produce the maximum revenue for the war.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(BUP)—The Dominion-Provincial conference on the Sirois report collapsed today. Minister of Justice Ernest Lapointe and chairman of the committee which had wrestled all morning with the problem of salvaging the conference's work, reported almost complete failure to the plenary session this afternoon.

Mr. Lapointe issued the following statement: "The committee decided unanimously that all proceedings should be public. Six premiers are in favor of appointing committees from the conference to consider recommendations of the report without being committed as to their final attitude."

"Three premiers stated they refused to consider the Sirois report further under the circumstances. Therefore the committee does not recommend appointment of any committees to discuss the conference to study the Sirois report."

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Premier Heppburn of Ontario today told the Dominion-Provincial Conference that if it was insisted that any further discussions be based upon the Rowell-Sirois Commission report, "we will leave you wreckers of confederation to carry on your nefarious work."

Mr. Heppburn followed his highways minister, Hon. T. B. McQuesten who, a few minutes earlier had declared "our association with this so-called conference is over."

The Ontario premier said he would not be present at the Rowell-Sirois Commission report, "we will leave you wreckers of confederation to carry on your nefarious work."

CANADIANS TO BE ABSORBED INTO R.C.A.F.

Will Be Transferred Upon Graduation From Air Schools

By WALLACE CARROLL
OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(BUP)—Canadians trained under the Empire Air Training Scheme will be transferred to the Royal Canadian Air Force on graduation. It was learned from an authorized source today.

The decision to expand the R.C.A.F. into a powerful force for air at home and abroad was discussed by Canadian Defence Minister J. L. Borden at an air and war office chiefs in several weeks of conferences. It was said.

Mr. C. D. Howe, Canadian minister of national health and training, inspecting equipment for future use.

OTTAWA was expected to make a decision on the transfer of Canadians trained under the Empire Air Training Scheme in Canada "the training in Britain of the Force signalled."

Several weeks ago Royal Air Force officials decided they would require a large number of well-trained airmen for the war effort. They called Canada and asked if it would be willing to train such a number. The answer came today.

It was believed that the newly arrived men would be assigned to active service post immediately.

War Cost

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Britain's war effort now is costing approximately $1,000,000,000 a day. It cost $400,000,000 in 1940. Army, navy and air force costs combined averaged about $800,000,000 daily in the first 11 days of 1941. The rest went for interest and management, national debt and ordinary expenditures.

Mr. Heppburn followed his highways minister, Hon. T. B. McQuesten who, a few minutes earlier had declared "our association with this so-called conference is over."

Greks Drive In Closer To Valona Port

Italians Bitterly Contest Every Yard Of Advance By Greek Army

ATHENS, Jan. 15.—(BUP)—Greek troops edged closer to the vital Albanian port of Valona today with the Italians bitterly contesting every yard.

The official Greek radio broadcast reports that non-combatants were evacuating Valona and Berat, 30 miles northeast of Valona, and there was no indication here of any major break-through.

Reports at Struga, on the Yugoslav border, said that six Greek and British planes bombed Valona again yesterday morning, heavily damaging the port and the northern part of town, killing six and wounding 10.

The planes also bombed an Italian military camp at Kinnia, Valona, killing ten officers and 25 soldiers and wounding 50.

HAIR COUNTER-ATTACKS
According to Struga reports, the Greek left wing in the coastal sector below Valona repulsed three Italian counter-attacks in the Karavasi mountains, while the right wing, aided by Albanian rebels from the village of Veronika, 11 miles southwest of Tepelenë, advanced a mile and a half north-west into the Griba mountains, to within 18 miles of Valona. There was only localized fighting in the Tepelenë and Kinnia sectors, according to Struga reports.

An official spokesman said that had repulsed three Italian counter-attacks, but he did not say where. In the first, he said, the Italians were attacking the Greek left flank and under cover of a barrage of mortars and machine-guns, they were attacking a fierce fight, and the Italian dead, the spokesman said.

The Greeks captured four light tanks, three anti-aircraft guns, and a large number of other equipment, and immediately put them to use.

Possible Landing Of British Troops In Greece Expected To Open Warfare In Balkans

By FREDERICK K. H.
LONDON, Jan. 15.—(BUP)—Balkan diplomats, increasingly convinced that the war will spread to southeastern Europe by spring, expressed belief today that though a German attack on Greece by way of Bulgaria was most likely to cause the explosion, the possibility must be reckoned with that a British expeditionary force would land in Greece and march to Albania.

They heard reports, however, that Gen. John Mervin, the Greek leader, did not desire a big British army in Greece because he believed it would bring an immediate German attack.

These diplomats expressed belief that British strategy had reached a crossroads and British leaders must choose between the following courses:

CHOICE OF COURSES
A drive in Libya past Tripoli and Thessalonica after which the German lines would be consolidated.

Attacks On British Fleet To Clear Path For Nazis Into Africa Expected By Experts

Strong aerial attacks by the British Mediterranean fleet probably will be made by the Nazi air force, military sources said today, to clear the way for shipment of German troops to Africa.

These sources characterized the attack by German dive bombers on a British naval flotilla Jan. 10 as "the first gun of the offensive."

The Admiralty announced last night the assault by German and Italian planes damaged the 22,000-ton aircraft carrier Illustrious and the 8,000-ton cruiser Southampton.

BAD WEATHER KEEPS RAIDERS FROM BRITAIN

German-Occupied Norway Targets Attacked By British Planes

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Heavy weather restricted German air activity over Britain today, but a few planes came over in the afternoon and were shot down.

Observers on the coast saw two German bombers loiter in the storm over Dover strait and when there was a report one had dropped 12 bombs at a southeast village. Three were said to have hit a parish.

A lone raider flew over Scotland after a quiet night, dropping one bomb and firing a machine-gun fire.

Planes also were reported over the East Anglian district.

The air ministry said that despite the bad weather, attacks on the coastal command last night at the German air base at Merville and other targets in German-occupied Norway.

Two direct hits were made by one aircraft on a motorship in Stavanger fjord. Another bombed an important railway bridge.

Ground mist and bad weather generally over the continent prevented the Royal Air Force from making its regular night attacks on Germany and German-occupied "invasion ports."

Following a restless day yesterday, the government said it was holding on to the night.

Two-Fisted Drama Of Empire Building Features Paul Muni In New Role—Romance Colors Picture

20th Century-Fox takes moviegoers down the paths of pulse-tingling adventure in its newest production, "Hudson's Bay," which opens Thursday at the Capitol theatre. A two-fisted drama of the frozen north and empire building, the film stars Paul Muni in a role unlike any he's ever had—as Pierre Radisson, colorful and daring, who saved a new world for the King who ordered him hanged.

more, two rough and tumble French-Canadian fur traders, who induce him to finance their adventure for the building of a commercial empire in the region of Hudson Bay. The following year they go to England with a fortune in pelts and organize a fur-trading company under the sponsorship of the King.

The three adventures return to America bringing with them Monty Love, brother of Gene Tierney, Sutton's fiancé. The spoiled boy incites Indian warriors to distributing liquor among the savages. In order to prevent an Indian massacre Muni orders the young man executed by a firing squad. Then, through raging rapids and across the frozen wastes of the north, Muni leads a new expedition to find, having triumphed at Hudson's Bay.

Kenneth Macgowan was the associate producer. Lamar Trotzi wrote the original screen play.

MIGHTY DREAM INCENTIVE FOR TRADE EMPIRE

Fabulous Pierre Radisson Brilliantly Brought To Life

Pierre Radisson, the fabulist man who saved a new world for the ruler who had ordered him hanged, is brought to life on the screen brilliantly by Paul Muni in the 20th Century-Fox production "Hudson's Bay," which opens Thursday at the Capitol theatre.

Depicting the turbulent drama in the founding of an expansive colonial and commercial empire, the dramatic and moving film stars Muni as a reckless adventurer—a role unlike any he's ever had.

When Lord Crewe, played by John Sutton, is exiled to Canada for his pranks, he falls in with Muni and a fellow fur trader, played by Laird Cregar. Driven by a dream to bag big furs of his time could grasp it.

Muni takes the two men with him into the frozen north where the foundation is laid for a great trading company.

Indian warfare, the drama of men battling the elements, all are depicted in scenes full of compelling realism. In the end find victory is won when Radisson saves half a continent for the ruler who had ordered him hanged.

Running through the story is a tender romance between Sutton, the exile who makes good in Canada, and lovely Gene Tierney. Others seen in the featured cast include Virginia Field, Vincent Price and Nigel Bruce.

Spectacularly produced and expertly directed by Irving Pichel "Hudson's Bay" is fine, adventurous entertainment. Kenneth Macgowan was associate producer and Lamar Trotzi wrote the original screen play.

Capitol theatre, Saturday, at 10 a.m. Arrangements will be made for classes of students to attend afternoon showings.

Muni Scores In "Different" Role In Newest Film

In a role unlike any he's ever had, Paul Muni vividly portrays Pierre Radisson, the explorer who built an empire, in the 20th Century-Fox production, "Hudson's Bay," to be shown at the Capitol theatre.

SHOPPING TOUR GAVE IDEA FOR DRAMA OF H.B.C.

Answers to that perennial question—where where the idea for this picture came from—can take many forms. A tremendous film project may be based on a great novel, history or an outstanding personality. However, in the case of "Hudson's Bay," which stars Paul Muni and comes Thursday in the Capitol theatre, it was an insignificant little detail which originated the picture idea.

Kenneth Macgowan, associate producer at 20th Century-Fox, was out shopping one day and chanced to look in the window of a liquor store. There he saw a bottle of Hudson's Bay liquor with an odd-looking label.

The full name of the company, shown on the label, was "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading Into Hudson's Bay." Established 2nd May, 1670.

The label and the full official name of the company intrigued him. Inspired by the romantic and adventurous possibilities in the story behind the label, Macgowan went to the library. Research confirmed his opinion for the story was so thrilling that he, old 20th Century-Fox, the idea of producing it.

GEORGE VI PAID FIRST RENTS OF UNIQUE CHARTER

In 1607, when Charles II granted a charter to the Hudson's Bay Company, the founding of which is thrillingly depicted in the 20th Century-Fox film starring Paul Muni at the Capitol theatre, Thursday, it provided that if any King of England visited the company's territory he was to be paid rental in the form of two elk heads and two beaver pelts. The first and only English monarch to receive this rental was the present, King George VI when he visited Canada in 1939.

were needed for scenes in "Hudson's Bay," which stars Paul Muni at the Capitol theatre.

The studio did all it could to get enough of the costly skins in their raw state, but the best they could do was to round up 22 of them, inasmuch as every state has laws protecting beavers.

The prep men studied the 22 pelts carefully and then hit on the right idea. They bought 2,000 sheep pelts, dyed them, treated and tanned them, and by the time they got through they were exact photographic doubles of beaver pelts.

If Radisson Could See Us Now!

It Pierre Radisson could see us now, his amazement and incredulity would know no bounds. He, who gave impetus to the founding of Hudson's Bay Company, would see hundreds of trading posts dotting the vast north country, great stores in great cities, blankets, tea, coffee, tobaccos bearing the Company's name and representing traditional high quality. He would see, everywhere, evidence of The Company's greatness. Such has been the outgrowth of Radisson's faith in our great North-West.

PROFESSOR IS CHARGED WITH WIFE SLAYING

Musician Wife Is Stabbed When Husband Suffers From 'War Nerves'

By HARRY FLOREY

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Professor Arthur Lloyd James, international famous pianist, expert, was remained in custody for nine days today on charge that he stabbed his musician wife to death in Great Britain's first "war nerves" murder.

James and his wife had suffered severely from shock after a narrow escape from death in a pre-Christmas air raid, and both had received special treatment.

THOUGHT "POWERS FAILING"

Divisional Detective Inspector Oxford quoted James as saying after his arrest yesterday: "I thought my powers were failing and I could not cope with my work. Rather than expect my wife to have a black future I decided to take the law and not be asked to face it."

James, looking dazed and wearing a heavy black overcoat, listened intently with lowered head as a police officer read him his rights at the arraignment.

Given at the arraignment at Hammersmith police court.

James, 40, was found by Mrs. James saying "I stab woman" in the James Hampstead villa yesterday. Mrs. James was 34 years old.

James, an ex-pianist, was known under his maiden name, Jane Owen, as an organist, pianist and violinist and as a professor of music at the Royal Academy of Music.

DEVOTED COUPLE

A devoted couple, Professor James and his wife, were well known. The professor had made a deep study of phonetics as applied to wireless, and had been associated with broadcasting since 1924. He was the author of the section on pronunciation in the 14th edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and of many publications.

James was responsible for the nickname "Lord Haw Haw," which a broadcaster using an anti-British tone on the German official wire less. He has been heard in broadcasts in Canada.

Fish Orders

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Huge orders for fish in which the Atlantic, Gulf, Pacific and Great Lakes fisheries will share, are expected from the army in the Atlantic.

Edward H. Colver, chairman of a Boston fisheries committee, said yesterday he believed the army fish bill would approximate $2,000,000 a year.

Air Raid Fund

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The Lord Mayor's national air raid fund drive, which totals about 12,000,000 about $5,000,000, has distributed more than 170,000 to air raid victims through 424 civil centers.

Whicher Taken Out of Training

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Trainer Darrell Cannon said today he was taking Whicher, pace rider of the 1939 and 1940 running of the Santa Anita Handicap, out of training for the rest of the winter because of a "fired" leg.

The injured leg, the right front, is swollen and the animal is unable to carry his weight. Cannon said he was sure Whicher would be back in the saddle by March.

Whicher, owned by Major A. C. Taylor, Vancouver, B.C., finished second in the 1939 handicap and was third behind Seabiscuit and Royal II last year.

EAST PREMIER SEES NO LOSS OF AUTONOMY

Fears Are Exaggerated
Says Head Of P.E.I.
Government

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Premier Thane Campbell of Prince Edward Island indicated support of the Rowell-Sirois recommendations in a speech at the provincial conference Tuesday.

"This fear of loss of autonomy is,
I believe, exaggerated," Mr. Campbell said. "I feel we all recognize the present prime minister and his colleagues are as much opposed to such action as any government in Canada at this time."

He said the commission recommendations indicated in no way that governmental authority now vested in the provinces, should be centralized under the Dominion administration.

TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM

Mr. Campbell described the problem of transportation as one of greater moment to the maritime provinces, and referred to Prime Edward Island's special problem of communication with the mainland.

He noted the commission found the Dominion had not failed to discharge its obligations in respect to that particular aspect of his province's life.

He said he doubted, however, if any commission could have covered the matter fully, for he declared Prime Edward Island could not accept as final the finding the Disminution's obligation had been "neglected."

PRIMARY PRODUCERS

A finding of primary producers was the essential national policy
Mr. Campbell said.

Regulation had been detrimental to the primary producer, Prime Edward Island was much in the situation of "four friends of Manitoba," but was hit more severely because it had no big producers like that on wheat, butter and other products had been "neglected."

The provinces were handicapped by having to deal with boards and departments of the Dominion government, and this had led to fear of further centralization.

There was fear of further supervision such as that of a financial commission.

To preserve it under the strong light of the act, relief is being given to those who used in minor ways.

Listed Missing

FLYING OFFICER WILLIAM LIDSTONE MCKNIGHT, D.F.C. and bar, above, Edmonton-born fighter pilot with the R.A.F., who was missing as a result of air operations. He was born here November 18, 1914, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McKnight, reside in Calgary.

ACE CALGARY AIRMAN NOW SAID MISSING

CALGARY, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Calgary's famous flying ace of the war is missing.

Flying Officer William Lidstone
McKnight, D.F.C. and bar, 22-year-old Calgary, who has made a topranking name for himself as a fighter pilot with the Royal Air Force, and who has chalked up a lengthy list of enemy planes in his credit, is "missing as a result of air operations on 12th of January."

Today Mr. McKnight declared that he was "very hopeful" that his son is still alive, possibly a prisoner of war in German-occupied France.

"He's been out twice before," the father said, "although that was over England both times. He could do it again."

Mr. McKnight believed that his son was a prisoner. He was of the opinion that the air operations on Jan. 12 mentioned in the cable consisted of the bombing of French infantry ports. He was convinced that when further word came through it would indicate that his son was a prisoner of war in a German-occupied France.

Premier Hepburn's Speech At Sirois Report Parley Unparalleled in History

By GRANT DEXTER
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Placed in its setting Premier Mitchell Hepburn's speech at the opening session of the Sirois report conference in the House of Commons last Tuesday is without parallel in Canadian history.

If it had not happened nobody would have believed that it could have happened. No descriptive writing could possibly convey the impression created by the speech.
The speech alone is able to tell the story.

This was the setting:
The members of the nine provinces, together with colleagues and advisers, and the Premier of Canada, members of the federal cabinet and the senior officials of the Dominion were met to revise the constitution of Canada. The meeting was in the House of Commons, with the two prime ministers seated around the clerk's table, in front of Mr. Speaker's chair.

The agenda for this historic conference was the report made by a Royal Commission which had given almost four years study to its task of finding out how confederation could be strengthened. The commission had travelled the country and had received detailed statements from the governments of the various provinces on boards of trade, from all kinds of public and private bodies. Every kind of information of opinion which might be of value was not only taped, it was drained dry. To satisfy the commission, the substantive economic, historical, business executive, public officials, chambers of commerce, educational institutions, lawyers—all the special knowledge and the expert executive and administrative experience available was called in.

The war came before the report was in, aggravating and making more urgent all the problems the commission was seeking to solve.
The war made reconsideration of the report more imperative than ever.

The report was signed in the spring of 1940, it was studied by the Dominion and the provincial governments for some eight months.
They came the conference.

Explained in detail.
Mr. King presided and led discussion with a speech in which he approved of the report without qualification. He explained in detail why the adoption of the recommendations was necessary to enable

BRITISH UNITED PRESS

Exclusive World-Wide

... NEWS!

The BULLETIN and ONLY The Bulletin brings its readers the all-exclusive news services of world-wide BRITISH UNITED PRESS. Special teletype machines in The Bulletin's Editorial offices reproduce the news of the world to waiting News Editors. BRITISH UNITED PRESS maintains a staff of over 200 reporters in Europe alone—more than any other news gathering association; in Canada and the United States there are 800 staff men; in South America 424, while in the Far East staff reporters number 100.

This, mind you, in addition to regular world-wide news that pours in over the wires of the Canadian Press and the long established Associated Press.

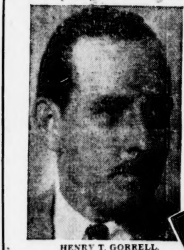

When something breaks in London a flash will be in the hands of Bulletin Editors not later than 12 minutes after it was picked up by London Staff Reporters. BRITISH UNITED PRESS has gained an enviable reputation throughout the world for its reliable, accurate news. No Canadian newspaper, and few anywhere, present a more complete news service than The Edmonton Bulletin.
